

Visiting Erra

A guide for a space traveler

1

Location:

You might be wondering where the Plejaren live and if they live on a planet just like ours, or if they live on a planet like Jupiter. Well, since the Plejaren look like us humans, then it is logical to think that they live on a planet similar to Earth. And this is exactly the case.

They live on a planet they call Erra and it is similar in diameter as Earth. Erra is located 80 light years beyond the Pleiades, shifted a fraction of a second in another dimension.

The Pleiades is an open star cluster visible to the naked eye and it is located in the constellation of Taurus at 420 light years distant from us.

2

Planet Erra is part of a solar system as well, and the name of their sun is "Tayget", pronounced "Thai-get". Around Tayget circulate ten planets. In their solar system, there are three other planets inhabited with humans.

3

Earth compared with Erra:

There are various similarities between Erra and planet Earth. The Plejaren call our planet: "Terra". One year on Erra lasts exactly as long as it does here, but they have divided their calendar in 13 months. A "day" on Erra has 23 hours and 59.4 minutes and it is called "Asar".

4

The number of inhabitants on Erra is about 500 million. The number of humans on Erra corresponds to the amount of fertile soil; therefore, every human has enough food and water to nourish themselves. On Erra, nobody goes hungry and poor countries don't exist either. Like it was mentioned before, both planets are similar in size, so the population on Earth should not exceed 529 million people so that other animals and plants have the space to survive. Currently the population here on Earth is more than 8 billion.

5

Buildings

On Erra there are several cities with multi-story buildings; however, there are no high – rise buildings with small rooms for humans to live in. Their buildings are surrounded by gardens with pedestrian paths. They don't have streets because they don't have any kind of surface vehicle. Their transportation means hover above the ground without the emission of contaminating fumes.

6

Most habitants prefer to live in the country side. Their houses are built for single-families. These homes have a semi-spherical or spherical form, and they are built of metal alloys or synthetic material similar to our silicon. Such houses have a diameter of 68ft and are built on fertile soil of at least one hectare, where the Plejaren grow all kinds of vegetables and flowers. Factories and industrial sites are located in remote and non-inhabited areas. Such factories produce the goods without affecting negatively or contaminating the environment.

7

Clothes and Food:

The clothing that the Plejaren wear is very simple and comfortable. They wear close-fitted overalls for space travel and they are designed with a ring collar for attaching a protective helmet.

8

The food that the Plejaren eat is very nutritious and well balanced in minerals and vitamins. They consume fruits, vegetables and animal products as well. Plejaren are not vegetarians, but they no longer kill animals in order to obtain meat products. What they do instead is to artificially produce parts of meat in facilities similar to factories. Only in extreme cases they consume rabbits, chickens, and ducks. They say that especially children and adolescents need to consume animal protein for an optimum growth of body and mind. They enjoy drinking fruit juices of all kinds, and alcoholic beverages are not consumed.

9

They plant and harvest all kinds of fruits and vegetables, native products of Erra as well as some plants and flowers that were taken from Earth by their ancestors and brought to their home planet Erra. Their fruits and vegetables are so nourishing and thirst-quenching that they do not need to consume food nor drinks every day, but every few days up to every 90 hours.

Horticulture is a main practice on Erra, where robots and androids are programmed to take good care of the plants and fruits. If we could see their plants and trees, they would appear to us as a garden of a giant, because the corn stalks can reach a height of 18 meters (59 ft) with cobs of 2,1 meters (7ft.) and 25 cm (10 in.) in diameter. Apple, pear and cherry trees soar 120 meters (396 ft.) into the sky. And apples grow like pumpkins. This type of giant horticulture is exclusively produced to export the products to other planets where they suffer from food shortage.

10

11

Domestic animals:

Plejaren also enjoy raising domestic animals, but the animals never live or even spend time inside their living quarters. The animals have special enclosures, which are located far from the houses where humans live. The reason is that animals carry all kinds of diseases, even if one bathes and disinfects the animal. The Plejaren have eradicated all types of animal diseases that are contagious to humans; however, they do not allow animals to sleep in the same bed with persons because the harmful pathogens to humans may reappear even if the animal has been disinfected.

12

Working activities:

One could think that the Plejaren no longer need to work because they have all kinds of machines, robots and androids that can perform any type of physical work for them. The opposite is exactly the truth. The Plejaren engage in arduous and physical work just as much as we do here on Earth. If people desire to grow spiritually, they can only accomplish this by performing manual work to the best of their ability. All Plejaren perform two hours of work daily. Adolescents and adults work for the community without monetary remuneration.

13

In exchange for their work, they receive all the goods and necessities they need for daily living. After they complete their two-hour work-duty, every person is free to do whatever it pleases to do. Naturally they do not laze around, but engage in meaningful activities whether physical or intellectual.

14

They work and help all over the planet and other planets if they so please. For example, they can fly to different locations and help in different types of work, because Plejaren have studied different fields of knowledge. Working for the planetary community gives everybody a sense of unity and neighborly love for one another.

15

Visiting Erra

A guide for a space traveler

www.billyforkids.info

Taken from the book "And Still they Fly" - Guido Moosbrugger.

16

